

Mike Turner

Remains of broken glass from the glassworks.

So what do you remember of that area there, where the glass works used to be?

All I remember, as a child, was all the broken glass, I've actually seen bottles and actual glass canes, but that's what I remember is, just all the broken glass, lots and lots of broken green glass.