

Tom Greeves

Repair of the bridge in 1879.

Yes, the repair itself was rather fascinating, when they put just one of these smaller slabs back, weighing four tons, they actually had to call in the assistance of quarrymen and stone cutters from Merrivale Quarry, with all their equipment they had then, and it was a huge job in 1879.