

John Bellamy

A sense of belonging.

What is it about Postbridge and Dartmoor that brings you back?

I can't really explain it, I just love everything about it, its moods, its colours, the people, the animals, the birds, the river, I've always been passionate about the river, you know, the other day I was down there, I went for a swim in the pool in the afternoon and come the evening I was fishing in the same place, its, its just magical as far as I'm concerned.