

John Thorp

No evidence of a partition being present in the original house.

*Do you think originally there would have been a screen here not?
Because its quite a narrow passage for cows.*

Well it is indeed and you wonder whether there was one, I've been to several longhouses on Dartmoor where you see no ancient evidence of any partition at this end.