

John Thorp

17th century window.

Yes you've got... used in this window are some pieces from an earlier window, some people have suggested it may have had an ecclesiastical origins but not necessarily, it could have been indeed the window that was blocked up when the first floor was inserted. And granite mullioned windows do occur down to relatively small farmhouses.