

Freda Wilkinson

Tethering posts.

You can see there's a couple of stall posts - riddle sticks is the original name for stall posts in a shippon - and you can see that they fitted into slots in the granite kerbs of the manger end, and then they would fit up into holes in this beam which went across, so if they got rotten or broken they could be lifted out quite easily and replaced quite easily.